7:35 Susan Curtin – Council on Aging (COA) Update

Susan Curtin, COA Director, was present to update the board with the results of their survey. The Elder Economic Survey was mailed to all senior residents 60 and over. The responses received (118) accounted for about 5% of 2400 senior households. Regrettably, the responses are not statistically significant. Ms. Curtin handed out a summary of the survey data for review, including comments from respondents. The COA staff will be reviewing the survey data in more detail over the next few months. The survey summary and data is on file in the BOS office. Ms. Curtin gave the board other pertinent facts and figures about the available services for residents at the COA. The primary activities which have seen increased use are home delivered meals, volunteer rides to doctor's appointments and shopping as well as assistance with financial aid paperwork. The average age of people served is 74.

The COA provides assistance from certified personnel for residents applying for Medicare services under the SHINE (Mass) and SHIP (federal) programs.

Mr. McBride stated that he would like to have better publicity for the CHT's Senior Grant program. Not enough seniors are taking advantage of this funding for home repairs that directly benefit the health and safety of the residents.

Ms. Curtin also noted that the COA board has lost two long time members, both of whom will be much missed. If anyone has interest in serving on this committee, please apply online or at the BOS office.

Changes to the transportation program (partly due to liability issues) include hiring 3 on-call drivers to take people to medical appointments. Over 500 additional rides have been scheduled in the last two months. Ms. Curtin expanded on other increased activity for the transportation program. There is no fee for these rides, which use about 40 hours per week for paid driver time. The ride program is advertised in the COA newsletter. Ms. Allen asked about MBTA meetings and getting services for the Town. Mr. Morin is the MBTA rep and will follow up, but this will be an uphill battle.

Discussion ensued about the number of people in Town who are way below the average income level, more than people think. There are many programs available with resources for people in need. Mr. McBride again reminded all that the Senior Grant program is still available, please take advantage of this program. Spread the word. All thanked Ms. Curtin for coming and for her outstanding work at the COA.

8:15pm – Public Hearing – Tax Levy

Motion; made by Ellen Allen, seconded by Peter Smellie, to open the public hearing at 8:15pm. Unanimously voted

The notice of public hearing was read by Mr. Smellie.

Ms. Demong welcomed and introduced the Board of Assessors; Joan Osborne, Bill Hauser and Sue Kirby. All reviewed the tax levy presentation which is included in the BOS packet. Ms. Osborne, Chair, presented the background information to set the tax rate. If adopted, the new rate would be $16.34 per $1000 for the residential property tax amount. This rate is a slight decrease from last year's rate, but there are increases in property values. 2017 has seen growth in the number and value of residential properties, whereas commercial values have remained fairly constant. This means that on average residential taxes will rise more than commercial taxes. Discussion ensued about commercial values in the Town compared to those of surrounding towns. Residential values are strong because of a good community profile. The tax rate is not as significant as the home valuation in calculating a home's tax bill. Properties with a value of $500K or less may increase more than large older homes because starter homes values saw a greater increase in valuation. The Town's ability to shift the tax burden is limited by the amount of zoned commercial property. All discussed issues with commercial property zoning rules. Ms. Osborne reviewed the range of a theoretical tax shift from residential to commercial property of 1% to 20%. With a split rate, the tax would shift from $16.34 to $15.79, however, the BOA feels that it is not appropriate to move to a split rate at this point in time due to the limited total commercial tax base. They voted unanimously to keep the single tax rate for this year and also not to adopt any residential exemptions.

There were no public comments at this point in the meeting.
